

NAME _____

TEACHING & BODY LANGUAGE

BRAIN: When you're teaching a lesson, don't think about the details, think about teaching. Prepare in advance. Teach in the moment. Have fun!

Draw yourself as the Perfect Teaching You. Think about aspects of your body and how you move in the classroom.

EARS: Are you hearing students when they speak? Pause to be sure you are paying attention.

EYES: Can you see the students? Can they see you? Looking inward? Making eye contact?

MOUTH: Smiling? Serious? Projecting your voice? Can all students hear you?

LUNGS:
Breathe!

HEART: Heart teaching art!

CLOTHES: Are you professional? Comfortable? Creative? Able to make art?

BODY: Open to the classroom? Guarded? Tense? At ease? Stretch!
